

Are You Worried About Your Student?

The Student Assistance Program (SAP) can help students experiencing barriers to learning.

A Guide for Parents/Guardians

What Is SAP?

A SAP team made up of school and agency staff is available to help you access school and community services for your student.

In Pennsylvania, every school district is required to have a plan for identifying and assisting students who experience barriers to learning. Our school's Student Assistance Program team name is the Student Assistance Committee (SAC).

The SAC team will help you find services and assistance within the school, and if needed, in the community. We do not diagnose, treat, or refer your child for treatment. We will provide you with information and you make the choice(s) that best fit your needs and wishes. As the parent/guardian you are an important part of the team.

Do You See Your Student Showing Any of These Behaviors?

- Withdrawing from family, friends, and/or activities
- Changing friends
- Unexplained physical injuries
- Feeling sad
- Talking about suicide
- Defying authority, either at home or school
- Physically and/or verbally aggressive
- Lying
- Needing money without a good explanation
- Declining grades
- Openly talking about or experimenting with drugs, alcohol, or tobacco
- Self-harm (such as cutting)
- Skipping school
- Bullying

Are You Concerned about Your Student's Reaction to...?

- Recent death of a loved one
- Family changes i.e., divorce/separation
- Financial problems
- A relationship problem

How Does My Student Become Involved in the SAP Program?

Anyone can refer a student to the SAC team. Some students are referred by teachers or other school personnel. A friend or family member can also let the SAC team know that they are worried about someone. The child can even go directly to the SAC team to ask for help. Schools will gather information to determine how a student is doing in their classes. However, the SAP team will not proceed unless you give your written parent permission. Once permission is received, the SAC team will collaborate with you to develop a plan of action to help

How Do I Contact the SAC Team?
